

CALL FOR PAPERS

'Space/Time'

DEADLINE: 1 MAY 2009

Contributions are now invited for the 2009 issue of the MHRA Working Papers in the Humanities, an international, refereed online journal aimed at postgraduate and early career researchers. A special, themed section of the journal will be dedicated to 'Space/Time,' though papers on other topics are also welcome.

Authors might consider, among other things:

- ❖ Linear temporality and its disruptions
- ❖ History and historical narrative in language, literature, or culture
- ❖ Memory, recollection, nostalgia, forgetting
- ❖ Monumentalisation – fixing points in the landscape in perpetuity
- ❖ Place and space
- ❖ Science fiction (other spaces, other times)
- ❖ Outer space
- ❖ Engagement with landscape
- ❖ Language across/within borders
- ❖ Nations and nationalism as constructions in space and time
- ❖ Translation across space and time

Papers may come from any field in the 'modern humanities', which include the modern and mediaeval languages, literatures, and cultures of Europe (including English and the Slavonic languages, and the cultures of the European diaspora). History, library studies, education and pedagogy, and the medical application of linguistics are excluded.

In order to submit a paper, you are kindly requested to register as an author at <http://mhra.org.uk/ojs/index.php/wph/user/register>. Queries should be directed to the editors at postgrads@mhra.org.uk.

MHRA Working Papers in the Humanities