

Postgraduate Associate Application 2024

Postgraduates registered for a higher degree in the modern humanities* are eligible for up to three years' free associateship, including:

- A discounted print copy of the MHRA Style Guide (4th edition)
- Up to three years' free subscription to the online versions of the following journals: Modern Language Review, Austrian Studies, Portuguese Studies, Slavonic and East European Review, The Yearbook of English Studies
- The opportunity to participate in a prestigious scholarly organization that unites a broad range of disciplines and embodies the best research and publishing expertise in its constituent fields.

The MHRA supports the work of young researchers in various ways.

- The highly regarded Style Guide is an essential component of training in research methodology at many Higher Education Institutions, and provides the stylistic model for MA and PhD theses in the humanities.
- The Legenda series includes some of the best recent doctoral research, published with expert editorial guidance.
- Two postgraduate representatives sit on the MHRA Committee, allowing postgraduate associates to influence the ways in which the MHRA supports postgraduate and postdoctoral studies.
- The open access, peer-reviewed journal Working Papers in the Humanities is run by and for postgraduates.

Confirmation by supervisor

Please ask your supervisor to confirm that you are currently registered for a higher degree in the modern humanities at your institution by sending an email to membership@mhra.org.uk

Please send this form to the Membership Secretary by email to membership@mhra.org.uk or by post to MHRA Membership Secretary, 59 Bridle Way, Grantchester, Cambridge CB3 9NY, UK.

* For the purposes of the MHRA's charitable obligations, the modern humanities includes the modern and medieval languages, literatures, and cultures of Europe, including English and the Slavonic languages, and the cultures of the European diaspora. History, art history, and philosophy as narrowly conceived fall outside the Association's remit, but the study of language and literature is interpreted in the broadest sense to include an overlap with neighbouring disciplines, e.g. cultural history, wherever appropriate.

 This offer is subject to availability, and applications are subject to approval by the Committee of the MHRA. Associateship runs from the beginning of the calendar year: for new postgraduate associates registering after September, subscription to the MHRA's journals through JSTOR / Project MUSE may run from the beginning of the following calendar year. At the end of each calendar year you will be sent a renewal notice. Should your address change in the course of a year, or should you decide to suspend your associateship, please notify the Membership Secretary at membership@mhra.org.uk.
